Excellence For Learning™ – Student Version

The success or failure of students is often related to:

- How they interact with others
- How they are perceived by others
- How they are accepted by others
- Their compatibility level with their teacher(s)
- Their awareness of their strengths, limitations and motivations

The STUDENT VERSION of the EXCELLENCE FOR LEARNING series of software products is designed with the student in mind. It introduces the student to how he/she likes to communicate, the types of activities he/she likes and offers recommendations for improving study habits. The report is an excellent way for students to better understand themselves and others. It can serve as a tool for increasing the student's self assurance. The more self assurance that a student has, the more he/she will be able to handle the demands of the classroom as well as interactions with friends and family.

Excellence For Learning™ – Student Version Objectives:

- To increase the individual's awareness of his/her natural behavioral characteristics.

- To build understanding of self.
- To help the individual understand and appreciate the different styles of behavior.
- To offer recommendations for improving study habits.
- To target activities in which the student could be successful.

Excellence For Learning™ – Student Version Applications:

To gain the most benefit from the STUDENT VERSION Report, the following steps should be taken:

1. The student should read the report highlighting those areas that best describe him/her and crossing through those areas with which he/she disagrees.
2. Encourage the student to ask his/her parent(s)/guardian(s) to read and discuss the items with which they agree or disagree and why.
3. The teacher and student should read through the report and discuss how the student's strengths could be used in the classroom and in the total school setting.
4. The study tips section could be used as a developmental plan if the student is having difficulty understanding or completing work.

The STUDENT VERSION REPORT can be incorporated into a communications module for classroom delivery. Group activities, games and worksheets could reinforce the applications listed above.

Have the student share his/her report with a friend and discuss the items with which they agree or disagree and why.

Have students form small groups and discuss their reports and talk about how the reports could help them get more out of their classroom or extra-curricular activities.

If the student has begun career planning, the guidance or career counselor could review the report with the student as a way of targeting behaviors required in specific jobs or careers.

BOTTOM LINE

The Excellence For Learning™ reports are the key to increasing the overall effectiveness of your professional and personal growth. Using the EFL – Student Version report will enhance self-awareness and encourage positive communication. The result is success for you and others!
